NO. 142

THE LOTTERY BILL.

Full Text of Governor Stevenson's Vote of the Same.

STATE OF NEVADA,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
CARSON CITY, March 15, 1887.

To the Honorable the Senate:—I am impelled by a sense of constitutional obligation and official duty to return to your honorable body, in which it originated, Senate Bill No. 100, entitled, "An Act authorizing the formation of a corporation for the purpose of conducting and carrying on a lottery in the State of Nevada," without my approval.

In stating my objections to this bill, I will say in the outset that my deliberate judgment, upon mature consideration, is that our fundamental law, considered as a whole, was intended by its originators in framing it, and by the people in adopting it, to require all legislation in this State to conform to it while it remains intact, and to prohibit any enactment of law dependent for vital force upon any such contingency as a change in the Constitution by either amendment or entire revision. Certain it is, to my mind, that if a bill can be passed and approved to become a living, effective law upon the amendment of the Constitution, so as to permit such legislation now inhibited, the same can be done in view of an entire revision of that instrument. And if it be permissible for the Legislature to pass laws upon one subject in view of such contingent taking effect, it may do so on almost any subject demanding legislative action; and thus the entire time of a session might be occupied in such enactments, the entire expenses of such session be incurred, and not an act be passed tending to the supply of immediate wants. If it can be done at all, there is no limit.

But, can a bill for a law be enacted by the Legislature of this State dependent for vitality upon the vote of the people? I think not, for more than one reason.

Article 3 of our Constitution divides the powers of our State government into three separate and distinct departments: The Legislative, the Executive and the Judicial; and it specifically bestows the power of enacting laws upon the Legislature, and solemnly enjoins upon it to enact all such statutory laws as shall from time to time be needed, unless expressly or by necessary implication inhibited by fundamental law. That is, the people, in their aggregate capacity, have not only delegated their law-making power—primarily existing in them—to the Legislature, but have wholly relinquished it, as to themselves, and lodged it permanently in that co-ordinate branch of the State government. At least, it is, and will remain there, until that instrument shall be amended or revised, according to its own terms, so as to remove it wholly or in part. This power, given by the people in their approved organic law, to the Legislature can be exercised by it alone, and cannot be delegated to any man or body of men or relegated to the people. The powers given to each one of the three co-ordinate departments must be exercised by them respectively, as defined, and neither can delegate its powers or devolve its duties and responsibilities upon anyone else. As the Executive must, for itself, and not by agency, see that the laws be faithfully executed, and as the Judiciary must, for itself, and not by agency, adjudicate upon and administer the laws, so the Legislature must, per se, make the statutory laws of the commonwealth. It cannot shift its responsibility to the people or any portion of body of them.

Numerous authorities have been called to my attention to show that an Act of the Legislature may be made to depend upon "contingency" or its effect. As an abstract proposition this is undoubtedly true. "But such a statute when it comes from the hands of the Legislature must be law in present, to take effect in future," says the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania in the case of Commonwealth vs. Parker, 6th Barr's [Penn.] Reports, page 400. If this bill, by its terms, were submitted to the popular vote as to whether it shall or shall not take effect, it is not now law, and could not go into effect, if voted for by a majority, because the fundamental law will not permit it so to do. But it is not, by its terms, to be submitted to the expression of the popular will. Hence, it is not possible, in any event, for it to become law. It seems to me to be impossible for an Act passed under positive fundamental inhibition to ever become law. No power can vitalize it. When the Constitution shall have been amended or revised, so as to permit it, such a bill as this, if passed, will be law at once, or in present, but not before. Until such amendment or revision shall have been made, the Legislature as well as the Executive Department of the State government is bound by the Constitution as it is, and must understand that the people in adopting and retaining that instrument as it is, do not desire or permit any legislation permitting lotteries, or the sale of lottery tickets in this State.
Among all the authorities I am unable to find any decided case which is similar to this matter, as respects the passage of an Act to take effect only upon or after the amendment of an existing fundamental provision inhibiting its passage. The case of Clarke vs. Irwin, 5th Nevada Reports, page 111, is more nearly in point than any other. Yet, in the most important features it is radically dissimilar. The Act of our Legislature (to organize the county of White Pine), under consideration, in that case, was a law in present as soon as it had remained five days in the hands of the Governor without action thereon by him. And it did not depend upon any manner of change in the then existing provisions of the Constitution. It was not only constitutional, but advisable for the Legislature to provide that White Pine county should be a Judicial District as soon as Judge Beatty should resign as Judge of the Sixth Judicial District, comprised of Lander county alone, until White Pine was detached. As soon as Judge Beatty resigned the Acts creating the Seventh Judicial District (White Pine county constituting it) could add did take effect with-any change of organic law, for that sanctioned such enactment, but does not such as this bill is. Whenever a change has been made by the Legislature in number and boundaries of the Judicial Districts it has of necessity been done in advance of the Acts taking effect, because their taking effect was always contingent under our Constitution, upon the expiration of the terms of office of the Judges, or the happening of a vacancy therein.

The question under consideration in the celebrated case of Parker vs. Commonwealth, 6th Barr's [Penn.] Reports, was whether an Act of the Legislature of that State, submitting the question of licensing the retail sale of liquors to the vote of sub-divisions of the voters (local option) was constitutional. The Court held the Act to be void, and in discussing the proposition, among other things, said: "Mindful of the ancient institutions of the country, and following the example set by the Federal Constitution, the people of Pennsylvania when ordinating and establishing a fundamental law for the government of the commonwealth decreed that the Legislative power shall be vested in a General Assembly." The Court then adds that that provision of the Constitution of 1790 was reiterated in that of 1835, then in force, and which had been, as was ours, adopted by a vote of the whole people; "thus conclusively showing that the experience of nearly half a century had worked no change in the sentiment which lodged the legislative authority of the commonwealth in selected and responsible bodies of men, liable to the animadversions of their constituents, as the only safe depository of this portion of the sovereign power." The Court argued ably the proposition that the legislative power thus lodged by the people in their General Assembly, could not be exercised by any other person or body. There was nothing in their fundamental law permitting it; and there is nothing in ours which even suggests it. On this point we again quote that Court: "Among the primal axioms of jurisprudence, political and municipal, is to be found the principle that an agent, unless expressly empowered, cannot transfer his delegated authority to another, more especially when it rests in a confidence, partaking the nature of a trust, and requiring for its due discharge understanding, knowledge and rectitude." * * * And what shall be said to be a higher trust, based upon a broader confidence, than the legislative function? * * * It is a duty which cannot, therefore, be transferred by the representative. No, not even to the people themselves, for they have forbidden it by the solemn expression of their will that the legislative power shall be vested in the General Assembly."

On this point our fundamental law says: "The legislative authority of this State shall be vested in a Senate and Assembly, which shall be designated 'The Legislature of the State of Nevada.'" This language is similar in import to that above cited from the Constitution of Pennsylvania; is equally significant and fully as exclusive as to the power thereby granted. There is not in this, nor in any other provision of our organic law, anything authorizing the Legislature to refer any Act it may pass to the vote of the people or any portion of them, to decide as to whether it shall be effective law. The Constitution being thus silent, if the Legislature can refer an Act to the decision of all it can to any number of the voters of the State as to the question of its effect. If the Legislature can delegate or relegate its power, the Executive and Judiciary, by parity of reasoning, may do the same. On this point Justice Booth, of the Court of Errors and Appeals of Delaware, said in a pertinent case: "The absurd spectacle of a Governor referring it to a popular vote, whether a criminal convicted of a capital offense, should be pardoned or executed, would be the subject of universal ridicule; and were a Court of Justice, instead of deciding a case themselves, to direct the probationary to enter judgment for the plaintiff or defendant according to the popular vote of the county, the community would be disgusted with the folly, injustice and inequity of the proceedings." Quoting the above language of Justice Booth, the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania adds: "And yet these branches (meaning the Executive and Judicial) of the government derive their authority from the same instrument which confers the power of legislation upon the General Assembly, and are not more strongly restrained by its terms than is the latter body from devolving their duties and responsibilities upon others."

I might add many more and equally forcible citations from the case above stated, as well as from the case of Barlow, Hunrod, 8th New York Court of Appeals, 483, but I deem quotations made quite sufficient.

Though the authorities are in direct conflict, I am well satisfied the weight of authority, as well as of reasoning, is against the constitutionality of such legislation as is attempted in this bill.

There is another and very salutary provision of our fundamental law, to which in this connection, I deem it my duty to call your attention. I allude to Section 1, Article 8. It is as follows: "The Legislature shall pass no special Act in any manner relating to corporate powers, except for municipal purposes; but corporations may be formed under general laws, and all such laws may from time to time be altered or repealed."

The inhibition of this provision is mandatory, plain and comprehensive.
"The Legislature shall pass no special

Act in any manner relating to corporate powers." If this were not provided the Legislature could pass such special Acts ad libitum, and could thereby create corporations and grant them special and exclusive privileges, and as soon as rights had been acquired under them, or they had ripened into the status of a contract between the State and the corporation they would be irrevocable. The proposition to permit such a thing in this State must be startling to every reflecting mind. It is observable, from the language of the first section of the bill under consideration, that if the bill became a law, and could, under the Constitution be effective, it would confer upon the parties therein named, or a majority of them, the sole and exclusive privilege of organizing a corporation to be known as the "Nevada Lottery Company," with the authority "to maintain, conduct and carry on a lottery in the State of Nevada for a period of 25 years from and after the ratification and approval by the people of the State of Nevada of an amendment to Section 24, Article 4, of the Constitution of the State of Nevada, authorizing the Legislature to provide for the organization and incorporation of a lottery in the State of Nevada, and to designate the amount of revenue that shall annually be paid into the State Treasury by said corporation."

This would certainly, as intended, make the privilege of incorporating, as well as that of maintaining, conducting and carrying on a lottery, special and exclusive.

But as a clincher on this point, Section 6 provides that, if the said proposed corporation shall perform its duties, as enjoined in the proposed Act, it, the Act, "shall be treated as a contract between the State of Nevada and said corporation." The effect of this would be to render the Act irrevocable, (were it not for fundamental inhibition) as soon as the corporation had taken the primary steps in the discharge of its duties, and so it would remain, until the corporation failed in performance of its duties, as enjoined by the Act. And certainly the Act, as a whole, in effect, as much a substantial infringement of Section 1, Article 8, as it would have been, had it been intended to create or attempt to create a corporation outright.

Were it constitutional to enact that a law should take effect upon the amendment, by the people, of the Constitution, the bill under consideration could not take effect upon the happening of the contingency therein named, because of the inhibition of section 1, Article 8, of the Constitution. In other words: Were that instrument amended to provide for the submission of any Act of the Legislature to the popular vote, as to whether it shall or not be effective; and if (this bill) could not become effective with or without such submission; and

3. No corporation, such as the one contemplated by this bill, can now, or at any future time, be created by special Act, in view of the provisions of Section 1, Article 8, of our State Constitution.

It is a sound theory of municipal and political jurisprudence, reduced generally to practice in our country, that fundamental law shall be adopted, then legislative in view of it; but not legislative, and then adopt a Constitution to such legislation.

For the foregoing reasons, I am already of the opinion that the passage of this bill, were it to approve it, would be a futile attempt, in any event, to attain the objects therein mentioned.

The bill, with these objections thereto, will be, by the Honorable Secretary of State, laid before the honorable Senate, when next organized and in session.

Most sincerely and respectfully submitted,
C. C. STEVENSON,
Governor.

All general laws and special Acts passed pursuant to this section may be altered from time to time or repealed."

Constitution of Ohio, 1851, Article 13, "Section 1: The General Assembly shall pass no special Act conferring corporate powers." "Section 2: Corporations may be formed under general laws, but all such laws may, from time to time, be altered or repealed."

Section 13, Article 11, Constitution Indiana, 1851, reads thus: "Corporations, other than banking, shall not be created by special Act, but may be formed under general laws."

Illinois, 1847, reads thus: "Corporations not possessing banking powers or privileges, may be formed under general laws, but shall not be created by special Acts, except for municipal purposes, and in cases where, in the judgment of the General Assembly, the objects of the corporation cannot be attained under general laws."

Michigan, 1850, reads thus: "Corporations may be formed under general laws, but shall not be created by special Act, except for municipal purposes. All laws passed pursuant to this section may be altered, amended or repealed."

And, finally, as the latest framed and adopted by my country, I call your attention to Section 1, Article 12, New Constitution, California, adopted in convention, March 3, 1879, by the people, May 7, 1879. It reads thus:
"Corporations may be formed under
by special Act. All laws in force in this State concerning corporations, and all laws that may be hereafter passed pursuant to this section, may be altered from time to time or repealed."

Only ten years prior to the adoption by California of her new Constitution she had a very disagreeable lottery experience; hence, the adoption of the above provision, as well as the one respecting lotteries and the sale of lottery tickets, which is found in Section 23, Article 4, and reads as follows:
"The Legislature shall have no power to authorize lotteries or gift enterprises for any purpose, and shall pass laws to prohibit the sale in this State of lottery or gift enterprise tickets, or tickets in any scheme in the nature of a lottery."

In concluding this formulation of my written objection to the bill under consideration, I may state, by way somewhat of recapitulation, that:

1. The Constitution as it is now inhibits the passage of any such Act.
2. It does not provide for the submission of any Act of the Legisla-

special Act, in view of the provisions
stitution.

generally to practice in our country,
that fundamental law shall be adopted,
to such legislation.

be a futile attempt, in any event, to at-

Hotel Burned—Many People Cremated and Others Seriously Injured.

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 15.
The Richmond Hotel and St. James Hall were burned early this morning.
The loss is fully half a million dollars. A number of lives are reported lost, and many persons injured. The building is situated on the corner of Main and Eagle streets. The fire was discovered at 3:30 this morning in the New Richmond Hotel; an alarm was sounded and the fire department responded promptly. The house contained a large number of guests, and their heart-rending shrieks could be plainly heard. Ladders were raised as soon as possible, and as many as could be, were taken out.
A large number of them were unable to effect their escape. At 4 o'clock the entire Richmond, St. James Hall and other property in the block were doomed to speedy destruction. The buildings burned like tinder. The corridor in the center of the building acted as a great funnel, and as the flames streamed upward, the guests found themselves imprisoned by walls of fire. The screams of the unfortunates could be heard for blocks, and at many of the windows they could be seen in their night clothes, calling wildly for help. At one of the third floor windows, two guests were seen by the crowd to fall back into the flames. One man jumped from the fifth floor to the roof of a two story wooden building adjoining, and was seriously injured. The number of those injured is now exactly known:
Hon. M. W. Barz, of Orleans, N. Y., was seriously burned about the hands and wrists. A number of insurance men were in the building and several of them were badly injured; among them are W. J. McKay, of Niagara Falls; C. M. Dubois, of Syracuse; W.
S. Dewey, of Rochester, who escaped with bad burns; Clinton Bidwell, of Pittsburg, Pa., badly burned. At the hospitals are Charles Davis, of New York, hands and feet badly burned; H. B. Smith, of the North Bridge Insurance Company of New York, hands and feet badly burned; Edward Whelan, of New York, hands in a terrible condition. They are probably not fatally injured. Fitch Hospital contains eight men and women, all in a bad condition and more or less seriously injured. All are from out of town except one woman. Two of the injured are at the Sisters' Hospital. There are also four persons in the General Hospital. The rapidity of the fire, cutting off the means of escape led some persons to leap for life from the windows. The shrieks and cries of the poor people in the upper stories of the burning structure were heart-rending.
One man, mad with terror, leaped from the third story window and was picked up from the stone sidewalk a mangled and bleeding corpse. Several who succeeded in making their escape were badly injured and burned, and some of these will probably die. Others more fortunate escaped with slight injuries. It is now believed that at least 12 persons were burned to death.
There were 125 persons in the hotel, 70 of whom were transient guests, eight boarders and the remainder porters, bell boys, families of the proprietors and clerks. Twenty-two of these were rescued from the windows by the firemen, and a large number made their escape by other means. The origin of the fire is not as yet known.
William H. Alport, night clerk, says the fire started in the cloak room under the main stairway. "There was nobody up but myself and the night porter and bell boy. I pulled all four of the fire alarms on the different floors and the people came flying down stairs in their night clothes. The fire followed the elevator, and in the course of five minutes it reached the top floor. I rushed out of the door after doing all I could." Bell boy Plummer tells his experience as follows: "I heard a shout and saw the flames coming up the stairway from the basement. Mr.
Alport and I turned on the hose under the main stairway. We straightened the hose out and turned the valve, but the water would not run; then we gave the alarm. The watchman and I got a plank and broke the Eagle street entrance to the hotel; then we got a plank under the fire escape of Eagle street and we helped the people down. I think there were about 84 guests in the house."

Death of Mrs. Washburn.
CHICAGO, March 15.
Mrs. Washburn, wife of E. B. Washburn late United States Minister to France, died this morning at the Tremont House.

Woman Whippers Killed.
LOUISVILLE, March 15.
A Courier Journal special from Crab Orchard, Ky., gives the particulars of the killing of three vigilantes while administering a whipping to a woman 70 years of age in Rock Castle county.

The woman, Eliza Fish, persisted in selling liquor after she had been warned to stop. She kept a low kind of a store and groggery. The county is a prohibition one. Last Wednesday night the vigilantes, or law and order club, waited on Mrs. Fish. They took her out in the yard and were whipping her when shots were fired from over the fence, and three of the klu klux were left dead. Their names are John Long, Walter Turpin and John Hasty.
There is no clue as to who did the shooting. Rock Castle county has been infested by a band of klu klux for 10 years past, and all efforts to break up their lawlessness has failed. The old woman, Eliza Fish, had been whipped before by vigilantes, and her son was run out of the county for selling liquor.

A Triple Murder.
GALVESTON, March 15.
A special from San Antonio to the News says: A triple murder occurred yesterday afternoon at a railroad camp on the northwestern extension of the San Antonio & Arkansas Pass Road, 14 miles beyond Boerne. Henry Madison, a well-known stockman and contractor of this city, employed a number of men and teams. One of the laborers, named William Stone, went to Madison and asked him for some money, and was told he could not get any until Saturday. Stone became enraged and said he would have either money or blood, and without further provocation, pulled his revolver and fired, killing Madison instantly. Two Mexicans in the camp, who witnessed the shooting, ran up and attempted to arrest the murderer, whereupon Stone shot and killed both of them outright. The killing is pronounced as most cold blooded, and the prospects are that if Stone is caught he will be lynched.

Wholesale Kidnapping—Plantation Fires.
NEW YORK, March 15.
A letter from Havana dated March 12th says that kidnapping has been carried on by the wholesale during the past week at Guira in Vuelta Abajo.
One of the persons seized was Don Esteban Hernandez Domenguez, who was afterwards released on the payment of $2,000. The other persons kidnapped were of less importance.
Fires on sugar plantations are of frequent occurrence, and reports are daily received of losses to planters by this means. Although in individual cases the damage is not great, the aggregate loss foots up to a considerable figure.

Excited Creditors.
NEW YORK, March 15.
The office of Walter E. Lawton, at 31 Broadway this morning, was besieged with excited creditors. They could not get much information, as the chief bookkeeper of the firm had disappeared. Rufus K. Krieger, a partner of Lawton, is making an examination of the affairs of the absconding debtor, whose delinquencies will amount to more than half a million.

General Sickles Dead.
NEW YORK, March 15.
General Sickles died last night at his home in New Rochelle.

A Jury Obtained.
NEW YORK, March 15.
A jury was obtained to-day in the case of ex-Alderman Cleary, after 15 days delay.

Amusing Success.
It is the duty of every person who has used Roscher's German Syrup to let its wonderful qualities be known to their friends in curing consumption, severe coughs, croup, asthma, pneumonia, and in fact all throat and lung diseases. No person can use it without immediate relief. Three doses will relieve any case, and we consider it the duty of all druggists to recommend it to the poor, dying consumptive, at least to try one bottle, as 80,000 dozen bottles were sold last year, and no one case where it failed was reported. Such a medicine as the German Syrup cannot be too widely known. Ask your druggist about it. Sample bottles to try, sold at 10 cents. Regular size, 75 cents. Sold by all druggists and dealers in the United States and Canada.

Notice!
Manning & Jaques have been commissioned by the Reno Gas Co. as a competent firm to do their gas-fitting, and the company would recommend parties having work of the above character to do, to employ only the best workman, thereby saving much annoyance and expense.

A private London cable says: Herr Jacob's statement in the Reichstag, Monday last, to the effect that Germany is determined to maintain a gold standard, has not dampened the ardor of bimetallists. "A member of a prominent bullion firm," says the correspondent, "well known to the representative of Baron Bleichroder, has been buying silver for Germany several months past. It is reported that Germany wants to secure a contract for the coinage of fractional money for Japan and possibly China. Bismarck is trying to pave the way for bimetallic currency, by which German trade in the Pacific can be increased. The agitation regarding bimetalism is spreading. Germany could tomorrow pay the national debt in silver thalers, and then not be defrauding her creditors, as a thaler is now legal tender."

Count DeLesseps is reported as having stated that Emperor William said to him the other day:
"I am opposed to war, and will not fight unless I am attacked. My son shares my views on the matter.
I shall always oppose war, for I am convinced that neither Germany nor France desire it. Consequently an entente is always possible, if not immediately attainable in our diplomatic relations." Count De Lesseps added that the Empress Augusta expressed a friendly feeling for France.

A. K. Cutting, the printer and editor who did his best a year ago to make trouble between this country and Mexico, is in New Orleans, searching for a job at type-setting.
After he gave up the idea of a conquest of Mexico he tried lecturing in Texas and failed to draw even as a curiosity. Cutting's failures lie in the fact that he is an adventurer, and like all such in time has found his level.

The old veterans are after Cleveland's scalp for vetoing the Pension bill. A man who will veto a bill for the reason that a few unworthy men may reap a benefit from a law that will help thousands of brave, deserving men, must have a neck larger than his head and a heart that would starve a thousand to death that he might punish one tramp.

It is claimed that Frank Lawler is looking for the resignation of the Secretary of the Navy, in which event he will aspire to that position. Well, Frank is not without some experience, says an exchange, for he has sailed for years in the slush and slums of Democracy.

An exchange says "nitro-glycerine is a sure cure for nervous headache." Nitro-glycerine, properly administered, will cure all the ills that flesh is heir too, as has been proven on several notable occasions.

A SERIOUS CHARGE.

L. J. Moore, of Glendale Township, this County, Arrested for the Murder of His Daughter.

About two years ago Miss Alice Moore died at her home in North Glendale, some three miles north of Reno, presumably from heart disease. There being no circumstances surrounding the case calculated to arouse the suspicions of the authorities or others outside of the family, the usual course was proceeded with in the interment of the body as in natural deaths. The relations existing between the husband and wife were by no means of the happiest character. They are said to have quarreled considerably, and one of the results of the infelicity was a charge preferred against Moore by the wife, before Justice Young, on the 4th instant, accusing him of assault and battery in that he did unlawfully, beat, bruise and strike and wound her with his fist and a rope in a rude and angry manner. He pleaded guilty to the charge, and through his attorneys agreed to settle the matter with his wife, and thus had the trial of the case postponed until to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock.

Day before yesterday Mrs. Moore again appeared before Justice Young and swore out another complaint against her husband, charging him with the murder of their daughter, Alice, whose death occurred on or about the 1st of April, 1885. She alleges that the father "committed the crime of murder, in that the said defendant did unlawfully and with malice aforethought kill and murder one Alice Moore, the daughter of defendant, by striking, beating, choking and jumping with his knees into and upon the breast of deceased, thereby causing the death of said Alice Moore." The accused was at once arrested by Constable Upson and lodged in the county jail. He will be given a hearing to-morrow morning.

Moore and his wife and family have been living in Glendale Township for the past five or six years, ranching and raising sheep. Prior to that time they lived in Humboldt county, where Moore is said to have had trouble of a serious character. It is stated that he denies that Mrs. Moore is his wife, notwithstanding five children have been born to them. Since the alleged murder, two of the daughters have been married, and now reside in Oregon. They are reported to have denounced their father as the murderer of Alice, and will come to Reno to testify to that effect.

Polygamy in Lincoln County.

Says the Pioche Record: It is said that polygamy has existed in Panaca for years past, and also that it exists still. Our informant states that he can put his hand on at least three lecherous old wretches of that burg who are living with a plurality of wives. He furthermore says that wife No. 2 is kept in a cage, and hidden away as far as possible, from the sight of Gentile eyes. On wash days she may be seen in the guise of a "hired girl," exercising her muscles over the wash-tub. At other times, if perchance, a Gentile footstep crosses the threshold she usually slides out of the back door. We have other details in regard to the polygamists of Panaca which, however, are too filthy for publication.

A Sickly Town.

The White Pine News of Saturday says: "The Taylor graveyard is rapidly filling up. Were we a believer in predestination we should lay all this to the Almighty. But we are not, and therefore believe the cause of the alarmingly great number of deaths in this town in the past 18 months must be laid to some other source. Whether this is due to climate, water or want of proper hygienic observance on the part of our people we are not able to say. But one thing is beyond dispute: To be taken seriously ill in Taylor, they chances have been five to one against recovery. This is not a pleasant topic to enlarge on, but it is too true."

Railroads of South America.

Brazil has 5,597 miles of railroad. The Argentine Republic has 3,994 miles, of which nearly half is controlled by the State and the Province of Buenos Ayres, the rest being owned by private companies. Bolivia has 23 miles of railroad; Chili, 1,377. Of the Chilean railways, the State controls rather more than one-third. The railways of the United States of Columbia are 140 miles in length, and are controlled by private companies. Paraguay has 45 miles of railroad and Peru 1,560, Uruguay 270 and Venezuela 372 miles.

A Conductor Promoted.

An Eastern paper contains the following: Eastern Railway President—"See here, sir, I understand that after that last catastrophe you sent the survivors to their homes in distant States, and charged the expenses to the Company?" Conductor—"Yes, sir." "Do you suppose, sir, that this railroad is a benevolent society? What did you do that for? Give me an unanswerable reason at once or your resignation, sir." "To prevent them from testifying before the Coroner." "Resign, sir." "Why?" "I want you for Superintendent."

The Very Best.

H. Donnelly, Superintendent of the Eureka Con. properties, came down from the Comstock last evening, and left for home on this morning's overland.

Race Prejudice.

In Atlanta the presence of a Chinaman at a hotel table causes the whole dining room to be deserted by the white guests. Eastern people will doubtless be surprised to learn that in California Chinamen are frequently served by white waiters without creating a riot. The San Francisco Post says: The opposition to John here is entirely based upon reason, and mere instinctive race prejudice is considerably less potent than it is in China against white men.

The Same Kind of a Critter.

There were few of the women of Connecticut in the last century who did not keep some sort of a diary. An entry in one of these diaries shows what events were recorded, and also how witty some of the girls of the period were: "1790. We had roast pork for dinner, and Dr. S—, who carved, held up a rib on his fork, and said: 'Here ladies, is what Mother Eve was made of.' 'Yea,' said sister Patty, 'and it's from very much the same kind of critter.'"

A Resumption of Work.

A Midas, Nye county, correspondent to the Austin Reveille, under date of March 13, writes that the Knickerbocker mill there had just begun operations, and that it was running successfully. Ore is being hauled from the Union Canyon mines, the Richmond and Berlin. It is reported as being rich. Some excellent ore is also being taken out of the Indianapolis mine in Shamrock Canyon. It is the intention of the lessees to have it crushed at the mill at Knickerbocker.

Will Carry No More Indians.

The Arizona Star says: A sweeping order has been issued to the conductors of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company preventing any Indian in the future from riding on their cars. The reason for this order is to prevent the spread of the small-pox should it become epidemic. The order will probably be enforced at all times in the future.

Merit Will Tell.

Was never better demonstrated than when "Fryer's Abietene Remedies" were awarded diplomas at the late California State Fair at Sacramento and at the Mechanics Institute at San Francisco. W. Pinniger is agent for these celebrated "Abietene Remedies" and he offers to return your money if they do not give satisfaction. In buying, be sure the fac-simile signature of D. F. Fryer is on each, as none are genuine without it.

Excitement in Texas.

Great excitement has been caused in the vicinity of Paris, Texas, by the remarkable recovery of Mr. J. E. Corley, who was so helpless he could not turn in bed, or raise his head; everybody said he was dying of consumption. A trial bottle of Dr. King's New Life Pills was sent him. Finding relief, he bought a large bottle and a box of Dr. King's New Life Pills; by the time he had taken two boxes of pills and two bottles of the Discovery, he was well and had gained in flesh 35 pounds. Trial bottle of this great Discovery for Consumption free at S. J. Hodgkinson & Co.'s.

Unnecessary Misery.

Probably as much misery comes from habitual constipation as from any derangement of the functions of the body, and it is difficult to cure, for the reason that no one likes to take the medicines usually prescribed. Hamburg Figs were prepared to obviate this difficulty, and they will be found pleasant to the taste of women and children. 25 cents. At all drugists. J. J. Mack & Co., proprietors, S. F.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT FOR THE State of Nevada, in and for the county of Washoe.

In the matter of the estate of M. C. Lake, deceased.

The petition of Charles T. Bender, administrator of said estate, having been submitted to me by said administrator, and upon examination thereof, I believe it necessary to sell some portion of the real property belonging to said estate of fore said Court at the Court-room at Reno, in said county of Washoe, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, on the 22d Day of March, 1887.

Or as soon thereafter as said petition can be heard, for the purpose of showing cause, if any they have, why the prayer of said petitioner should not be granted and an order made authorizing and directing a sale of a portion of the real property of said estate for the purposes above mentioned as shall be necessary.

The foregoing order is made this 19th day of February, A. D. 1887, at Judicial Chambers at Reno, in said county.
